

Envision Year in Review

Happy New Year to all, as we close out a newsworthy 2017.

In Hollywood, a culture of sexual abuse was exposed, and people from near and far shared #metoo stories. At Envision Counselling and Support Centre we continued to advocate for a violence-free world.

We hosted Theo Fleury and his Victor Walk movement with the biggest turnout ever for the event.

Staff and Board volunteers evaluated our future by engaging in strategic planning, setting our course for the next few years.

We offered training to community members and professionals in the Southeast, both for first responders to sexual assault, and for those encountering sex trafficking.

Envision's regional and provincial partnerships impacted lives as we worked together to offer hope and support to families in crisis.

Envision's outreach team focused on prevention in Estevan and our rural schools, reaching more than 100 classrooms with presentations on healthy relationships, cyber abuse, and sexting.

With just over 1000 referrals this year, Envision counsellors and support workers maintained our mission to encourage and support healthy choices in individuals, families and couples.

We hope you enjoy this handmade calendar, to remind you of our gratitude for your support, every day of the year.

From the Executive Director team of Christa Daku and Lynda Rideout, as well as the Staff, Board, and Volunteers of Envision, we wish you peace and